DEMOCRATS IN MICHIGAN WILL ASK RECOUNT

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—Although unofficial returns almost complete from Tuesday's halting indicate that Commander Truman H. Newberry, defeated Henry Ford, 4, for United States Senator from Michigan by a margin of about 5,000, Democratic headquarters here this forenoon refused to concede the naval commander's election.

"The official count will be necessary to determine the result," said Ray Canfield, secretary of the Democratic state central committee, "and as the situation now stands I believe we will be justified in demanding a recount."

Republican headquarters insisted the final count would show Newberry's election by 10,000, and claimed to have figures complete with the exception of one county to show a lead for the Republican candidate of 9,500.

The Associated Press this forenoon figures from approximately 2,100 of the 2,202 precincts in the state gave Newberry a lead of more than 5,000.

The figures were: Newberry, 226,964; Ford, 201,625.

The minority of Gov. Sleeper and the remainder of the Republican state ticket in the final count will be approximately 50,000 or one-half the normal Republican majority in Michigan.

Suffrage will have an affirmative majority of 25,000.

HUNS LEAVING GHENT; WANT GUN FIRE WITHHELD

Early Today Americans
Were Within Four Miles of Sedan.

On the Battle Front in Belgium. Tuesday, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—A wireless dispatch was received this afternoon at the headquarters of General Baurains from the Germans saying they had decided to abandon Ghent and asking the Belgians not to fire on the suburbs of the town, where white flags were raised. American troops from Ohio, under the command of General Farnsworth, played a great part in the relief of the city and the attack on Eecke, 16 miles southwest of Ghent, which was taken by storm yesterday. Their losses were light.

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—American army officers in charge of offensive operations against the Germans on the Meuse-Sedan-Montmédy line prepared for a further advance today, despite the fact that hostilities might soon be ended through the signing of an armistice.

Early today the Americans were only four miles south of Sedan. The French on the American left are moving forward rapidly in the direction of Sedan, making it doubtful whether the honor of first reaching the city will go to them or to the Americans.

The great wedge which the French and Americans have driven into the German lines west of the Meuse, is within four miles of Sedan.

American forces have taken Villers-Montmédy, Mont de Bruin, Autrecourt and Combaux. The French, in cooperation with the Americans have reached Omeourt.

The Americans at one place have advanced over four and a half miles. The villages taken include Bulcon, Haraucourt and Raucourt. Great quantities of commissary stores, many railroad cars and equipment and enormous amounts of war material have been captured.

Desperate fighting continues east of the Meuse. The Americans gained nearly two and a half miles during the day, capturing Murvaux, Fontaines and Hill 284.

HUNS WILFULLY KILLED WORKERS OF RED CROSS

With the American Army in France, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—A German soldier of today who before the war was supposed to be civilized, the American Indian of frontier days is declared by an American medical officer to have been highly civilized.

"The Indian never pretended to be anything but a savage," said the medical officer, "while the Germans have been pretending to be peace loving and human for the past century."

Deliberate killing by German troops of Red Cross workers engaged in their work of mercy on the battlefields has aroused the wrath of American army officers. It is asserted that all during the Marne battle, the Red Cross workers were ordered to field dressing stations, pouring machine gun bullets into the medical units as they tended the wounded and dropping bombs on hospitals, although the Red Cross insignia was in plain view.

The Hun snipers picked off Red Cross stretcher bearers as quickly as combatant soldiers.

"They acted just like cornered rats," declared an American infantry officer, "except that most of them did not have the courage to fight to the death. When they were surrounded and had no hope of escape, they came out of their machine gun nests with tears in their eyes and cries of 'Kamerad.' The German soldier in a pleading attitude is the most loathsome and despicable imaginable."

SEA SCAVENGERS FOLLOW THE WAKE OF HUN PIKATES

On Board an American Destroyer in French Waters, Nov. 7.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Sharks and sea dogs have been observed off the coast of France, following the wake of the submarines and watch and wait for the food likely to come from the wreckage of merchant vessels destroyed by the German sea wolves. Whether it is cargo thrown overboard by the commanders of American destroyers and is used as a clue to hunt down the Hun at sea.

The presence of schools of sharks and flocks of seagulls puts the men of the American destroyers on the tip of their toes, for they are hunting for a periscope in the path of American transports. One commander returning to port the other day said: "We saw a good many sharks and flocks of seagulls and these, you know, are a pretty good sign of submarines."

After several years of sinkings by submarines, the sharks and sea fowl have formed the habit of following in the wake of submarines, knowing that food is likely to come from the wreckage. Whether it is cargo thrown overboard from the freighter or wreckage thrown up from the torpedo explosion makes no difference; the appearance of sharks and birds usually means that there are submarines around."

MORE ARMY STUDENTS WANTED

New York, Nov. 7.—Extensive plans for recruiting men into the Students Army Training Corps, to fill vacancies caused by transfers to Central Officers' Training camps, are being made by the War Department through the Committee on Education, according to a bulletin issued by Capt. Raymond T. King, of district headquarters.

The reason why some men haven't gone to France is that they feel they are needed so badly in this country to criticize what other people are doing.

The kids want that shipload of German toys just brought over, as it will be such a pleasure to smash them.

During October six Norwegian vessels of a gross tonnage of 7,527 tons were destroyed through causes of the war.

YANKEES WITHIN SIGHT OF SEDAN

City Only Six Miles Off and Fires Are Observed
From Hills

With the American Forces on the Sedan Front, Nov. 7.—American troops were fighting yesterday within sight of Sedan, famous for the great battle fought in the Franco-Prussian war in 1870.

From the hills in the region of Chemery and Maisoncelle, where the Americans, according to last accounts, were advancing despite stubborn resistance, the hilltops of Sedan are in plain view, being about six miles away. Part of the city is burning.

The Americans reached Chemery, seven and one-half miles south-southwest of Sedan. East of Chemery the American lines now run through Maisoncelle, Flabas and the Bois de Fond de Limon.

The village of Beaumont, where there are more than 400 French civilians, is the particular target of the Germans. All last night they deluged Beaumont with poison gas.

In a wireless message addressed to the French and American commanders, the Germans reminded the Allies that there were many civilians in the village north of the Franco-American front and suggested that the artillery should be withheld from this area. None of the villages was named, however. The message was signed by the German field commander.

When they reached Chemery the troops of the American First Army had advanced slightly more than 27 miles since the offensive east of the Meuse began on Sept. 26.

RUSSIAN PRIESTS GO ON STRIKE

London, Nov. 7.—A strike of priests, in Moscow was one of the incidents of Bolshevik rule. Bishop Andrei, of the Perm diocese, a man of considerable influence among the Russian clergy, had been arrested for his outspoken opposition to the Bolshevik regime and all the ecclesiastics in that district went on strike in protest against his imprisonment.

They refused to perform the services their office required and the devout muzhiks and townspeople were greatly mortified. A number of striking clergymen were arrested, charged with counter-revolutionary activity.

After a thorough examination by the local commission for the suppression of Counter-revolution, Sabotage and Speculation, the priests were released upon signing a pledge that they would never take part in agitation against the Soviet government nor in connection with the arrest of the Bishop.

What became of the Bishop and how the strike ended, has not been learned.

OUR NEWTOWN NEWS LETTER

Newtown, Nov. 7.—Just 600 votes were cast in the election Tuesday, only 12 more than the town election in October, but there was an entire reversal in the partisan field. The Democrats gave an average majority of 110 ballots to each name on the ticket and elected both representatives to the General Assembly, the judge of probate and a majority of the justices of the peace. Representative-elect William H. Sanford led all his party associates, receiving 358 votes to 240 votes for his opponent, J. W. Behn, Republican. Attorney Charles G. Morris, Democratic candidate for representative, defeated George E. Hayes, Republican, by a majority of 98. Oscar Pitzschler won the office of judge of probate by a majority of 111 over his opponent, the present incumbent, Judge William C. Johnson. The Democrats were united and confident of success during the day, while the Republicans were apathetic and apparently disheartened and stayed at home or voted the Democratic ticket.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine E. Sanford took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Rose's Catholic cemetery. The deceased was the widow of the late Patrick Green Keane, both long residents in town. The family was among the pioneer Catholics of the town, and highly respected by all classes of our citizens. She is survived by Mrs. Daniel J. Keane, a daughter, and three grandchildren of Sandy Hook, Miss Margaret Keane, Mrs. Patrick Whalley, Mrs. William Cannon, Mrs. Andrew Stankova and John P. and Martin Keane of Bridgeport.

A wedding of more than ordinary interest took place Wednesday forenoon at St. Rose's church. The marriage of Miss Doretta Carmody, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Carmody of Sandy Hook to Ernest Thiebalt of Bridgeport, attracted a large assemblage of the relatives and friends of the couple. Rev. Father Sinnott, the pastor, solemnized the marriage, and celebrated the nuptial mass which followed. After the ceremony the bride and groom were taken to the Stratfield, in Bridgeport, where a wedding breakfast was served. After a wedding trip the couple will take a winter residence in Bridgeport, where the groom is engaged in business. The bridesmaid was Miss Anna Carmody, sister of the bride, and the groom's best man was J. Frank Corbett of Sandy Hook, a cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary and Charles Fisher of Bridgeport were the ushers. It was one of the prettiest weddings of the year, the costumes being charming and the flowers in keeping with the personalities of the bridal group.

NEWBERRY NOW LEADING FORD

Detroit, Nov. 7.—With less than 200 precincts missing, Lieutenant-Commander Truman H. Newberry, Republican, has increased his lead to more than 5,000 over Henry Ford, Democrat, for election as United States Senator from Michigan. A tabulation at 7 o'clock this morning of complete figures from 59 counties, and more or less complete returns from all but one of the remainder districts, gave Newberry 206,964; Ford, 201,625.

REDDING

(Special to The Times.)
Redding, Nov. 7.—The Democrats scored a victory in spots in Tuesday's election and practically a victory along the whole line as the Republicans had a majority on the State ticket much below the usual figure.

The Democratic high spot was the election of Paul Connerly as representative by a majority of 16 over John H. Hohman. S. C. Shaw, the other representative chosen, was on both tickets. D. S. Sanford, Democratic candidate for State senator, had a majority of 17 over Russell, backing by his home town of which he has reason to be proud. Some of the other figures are: Holcomb, 169; Spellacy, 157; for congress, L. O. Peck, 140; Merritt, 154; for lieutenant-governor, Lockwood, 149; Wilson, 154. Those elected justices of the peace are: Joel Godfrey, Daniel Vaughn, Rufus A. Lyon, John Muenich, F. A. Judd, A. G. Barnett and Joel G. Hawley.

The plan of a division into districts having the new road repair contract embraced the entire town was thoroughly discussed by the road committee at their meeting on Monday and finally adopted. A number of arguments were advanced in favor of the plan. One was that while with the single contract method not more than two or three bids were likely to be called out of a division of territory would elicit proposals from more than this number for each section. Such increase of competition, it is believed, will insure to the benefit of the town. Furthermore there would naturally be some rivalry among the contractors and this should tend to greater efficiency and excellence in the work.

Little river and the Saugatuck river are to form the interior boundary lines in the division, making a western, a center and an eastern section. The committee further decided, in advertising for bids, to invite proposals for each of these sections and also bids for the town as a whole. If the award goes to a single contractor he will have the privilege of sub-lettering as regards two of the sections defined.

H. C. McCollam, chairman of the local committee in charge of the relief work in this section, Monday for the joint benefit of various war relief organizations, has appointed the following associate members, each having the designation of captain: "Hedge section, Mrs. Raymond Cunningham; Center, Mrs. J. B. Sanford; Sanforston, Mrs. E. M. Sanford; Pleasant Valley, Mrs. W. C. Sanford; Lonsdown, Mrs. W. H. Hill. The canvass in West Redding will be supervised by E. P. Sanford, whose appointment comes from the district committee, and in Georgetown by Michael Connerly, permanent chairman of war relief work in that section. The amount which the committee has set as its goal is $2,500. Mr. McCollam has succeeded in getting the original territorial arrangement changed so that Redding instead of being divided will constitute a unit subsidiary to the Danbury district.

The influenza touch in this town very lightly except in Georgetown where it was epidemic to a degree probably not exceeded in any community of the country. Out of a population of from five to six hundred at least two hundred were victims of the malady. Among the considerable Italian and Polish elements of the population it left hardly a single person unaffected. In comparison with the number of sick the mortality was light, a fatal termination having resulted in less than half a dozen cases. These were mostly cases of pneumonia, succeeded by influenza. The worst of the epidemic seems to be past, there having been practically no new cases in the last few days and most of the earlier patients being in favorable progress towards recovery. In the other parts of the town there have been a few cases of pneumonia cases, none of which proved fatal.

A letter from Lyman D. Dunnell, written from a military hospital at Chichester, England, brought to his parents at their summer home on the side of the Malady. American Christmas has been followed while taking part in a general engagement on the French front. His command had overrun the first line of enemy trenches and was cleaning up the second when his left shoulder was pierced by a bullet, putting him out of action. The letter gives a graphic account of his experience in the battle and makes light of his injury. Young Dunnell is one of the enlisted contingent, having joined the famous 7th N. Y. regiment after America's entrance into the war. The 7th afterwards was merged with the 10th. He is a former pupil of the Sanford school and held a business position in New York at the time of his enlistment.

Miss Elizabeth S. Sanford is local representative to assist in the helpful work of the Red Cross has undertaken in the matter of a forward Christmas packages to the soldiers overseas. She has a supply of the standard containers which have been provided and will furnish them upon application made to her at the Town Clerk's office. The Red Cross pays transportation charges on the packages committed to their care, and Nov. 30 is the time limit set for forwarding these packages.

In reporting the trifling wounding in France last month of J. B. Sanford, Jr., The Times correspondent inadvertently misstated his rank. He was a corporal in the Redding Home Guard when he enlisted and won an appointment to the same position at his training camp in this country. On the other side he was promoted to a sergeant which rank he now holds. He is a member of Co. K, 10th regiment, 27th division.

Of the 28 Redding men in the service to whom ballots for Tuesday's election were sent only six made returns. These were: Herman Smith, Francis Malone, George Russell, Dr. Deming, Thomas Darrah and Samuel Day.

Rev. Raymond Cunningham and Edward W. Bradley have been known to friends here their safe arrival in France. The former went as a chaplain and the latter as a member of the Red Cross transportation service.

Ralph Rockwell has given up meat peddling and is temporarily filling a position in a Bethel market. His estate's bankruptcy has not yet been wound up owing to delay in realizing on the book account assets.

The lower grades of apples fit only for elder making are in demand this year by buyers from the city to an even greater extent than was the case last year. They bring 25 cents a bushel. The reason for the unusual demand is probably the approaching beer drought.

Local dairymen are now getting nine cents a quart for milk from the Redding district who are in keen competition to obtain a sufficient supply for their requirements.

A few years ago nine cent milk would have seemed like affluence to the farmers, who say that now it only represents a living profit and not even that unless the outlay for help can be kept down.

The town school committee took no action at their meeting last Friday on the resignation of E. A. Pinkney, the board's chairman, because all the members were not present. J. B. Sanford was called upon to act as temporary presiding officer. The committee decided to have the seats in the Ridge school re-arranged for greater convenience.

The sale by Arthur Nash of New York of his residence and farm property in Georgetown to Lizzie M. Holland of Yonkers was consummated by the transfer of title this week. It is understood that the consideration was approximately $20,000.

Mrs. John S. Sanford has been making a visit in Bridgeport as the guest of Mrs. Oliver C. Banks.

It is reported that William B. Claffin, now in the military engineer service, has sold his real estate in West Redding formerly the Arthur J. Todd place, to a man of the name of Klein.

SMUGGLING OF OPIUM GIVES A RICH REWARD

Vladivostok, Oct. 7.—Opium smuggling from eastern Siberia into Harbin offers such alluring rewards that scarcely an opportunity is overlooked by train porters and conductors. Across the Manchurian frontier the hillsides are ablaze with poppy fields. The prepared drug will bring triple its purchase price if safely delivered in the Manchurian town.

A young American woman traveling in a private car from Vladivostok recently unearthed a mysterious package in her compartment. The car porter seeing it in her hands attempted to snatch it. Being a young woman of spirit, she grabbed up a pistol, whereupon the porter fell upon his knees and begged for mercy. With a little persuasion he produced from beneath the young woman's berth a dozen more similar packages. They aggregated several pounds of opium.

Other Americans on board were summoned and it was decided to turn over the opium and the porter to the first custom officer encountered. This was done in the station of Harbin. The customs officer confiscated the drug, thereby earning a reward of several hundred rubles, but declared he had no authority to arrest the smuggler and the porter went his way.
